GENERAL NEWS FROM DIFFERENT STATES OF THE UNION.

A Letter from Alaska-British Columbia Boundary Line Survey Party—A Californian Leaves His Fortune to an Entire Stranger—A Big Deal.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—The first letter to reach this city from J. Henry Turner, sub-assistant in the United States coast and geodetic survey, since his departure for Alaska in June, 1889, was received by Professor George Davidson to-day. Mr. Turner was in charge of a party of 10 which was to co-operate with a similar party under Sub-Assistant McGrath in determining the location of the 141st meridian boundary line between Alaska and British Columbia. The letter is dated at St. Michael's, September 20, 1890, and was entrusted to the care of the Wells party by whom it was sent to this city.

The discoveries of Mr. Turner in the hitherto unexplored region which he traversed are very interesting. His observations will cause a change in the map of the country between the Arctic and the Porcupine river, in which he found rivers, lakes and mountain ranges, where before was supposed to be only a vast plain. Incidentally Turner refers to the experiences of Wells, who was forced to eat his own dogs. Turner's camp was located on Porcupine river, 160 miles from the Arctic ocean and 1000 miles from the mouth of the Yukon river.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Col. A. A. Tuttle, who is said to have been a commissary in the Sailors' Home at Santa Monica, Cal., for several years, registered at Smith & McNell's Hotel several days ago. There he was taken ill and removed to the New York Hospital where he died a few days ago. Just before he died he told clerk Waddell of the hotel that he intended to make him his heir and that his property amounted to $15,000. The clerk protested against this and said that the money should go to the man's relatives. After the old man's death it was found that he had disposed of his property as he had proposed. Word was telegraphed to Santa Monica to the colonel's relatives and a reply was received to the effect that they would not be responsible for his funeral expenses. They sent a dispatch, collect, at a cost of $1.86. Waddell determined that if it were not proper that he should get the stranger's money he would at least see that the relatives in the West got none of it. With this plan in view he bought a lot in the cemetery and gave orders for a handsome monument to be erected thereon.

Change of Officials.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Secretary Foster to-day received the resignation of Charles Goff, a special treasury agent of the seal islands. It is said it will be accepted and Goff given some other position fully as important and as remunerative. Secretary Foster said today that he was perfectly satisfied with Goff's report, which is strongly objected to by the North American Seal Company and the change was not due to any distrust he entertained with respect to Goff. He regarded the matter as a very important one, where the Government and the company were both interested, and he wanted an abundance of facts and opinions on the situation and so will send Colonel Williams, of Wellington, to Alaska to succeed Goff. Williams has been in the treasury service for fifteen years and is an old time friend of the secretary.

A Big Lumber Deal.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, May 6.—All the property of the great lumber corporation, The Knapp Stout Co., including yard at St. Louis and the Dubuque mills at Menominee, Wis., several hundred thousand acres of timber land in Wisconsin and a fleet of raft boats, will shortly be transferred to an eastern syndicate. F. B. Flanders, of this city, late agent for Bradstreet's Commercial Agency, several months ago secured an option on the property for between seven and eight million dollars. W. N. Balch, of New York, a professional English and American syndicate promoter, has charge of the eastern end of the deal. He has succeeded in floating most of the bonds and the transaction will shortly be consumated.

Smallpox in Texas.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., May 9.—Two cases of smallpox were discovered in a Mexican shanty today, and officers sought to remove the patients to the pest house. A large number of Mexicans armed themselves and swore the men should not be removed. The military were ordered out and with a number of determined men supplied with rifles, marched to the house where the sufferers were and surrounded it. The Mexicans were still obdurate. The command to load was given and a moment later they would have been fired upon had they not dispersed. The excitement was intense.

Will Not Pay the Montserrat's Bill.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—The disabled collier Wellington is discharging her cargo. There is to be a row over the Montserrat's towage bill. The Montserrat's bill for the job is $15,000. Capt. Blackburn of the rescuing steamer put this figure and Capt. Salmond accepted it. The negotiations were verbal entirely and conducted across as a great width of water as the lungs of the two captains would compass. Several such verbal bargains have been knocked out of late and the Wellington's consignees, abetted by the underwriters, will repudiate this one, leaving the matter to be adjusted by the courts.

Judgment Unsatisfied.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 6.—Russell Sage, of New York, to-day asked that a receiver be appointed for the St. Paul Stillwaters & Taylor's Fall Railroad. A month ago he secured a judgment against the company for $211,000, but United States Marshall Dunahower returned the judgment unsatisfied. Judge Kelly issued a temporary injunction restricting the company from removing its effects from the state and will next week hear the request for a receiver.

The President in Washington.

TACOMA, May 7.—Notwithstanding the cold, cheerless rain that has been falling for the last two days the people of the State of Washington gave the President a warm welcome at the station where the special train arrived this morning. It was nearly 6 o'clock when the train reached Chehalis the first stopping place in the State. The President was up to receive the large crowd assembled at the station, and the people seemed to appreciate his sacrifice of sleep, for they cheered lustily. Rain was coming down steadily when the train reached Centralia, where several hundred people, the G.A.R., post and band gave a hearty welcome. The mayor of the city introduced the President who made a short speech. Stops of a few minutes were made at several small stations where large crowds had assembled. The train arrived at Tacoma at 6:30.

Close Sealing Season Anticipated.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The Post tomorrow will say that communications are again passing between the United States and the British Government in relation to the Behring Sea controversy, and that in consequence the despatch of revenue cutters and treasury agents to Behring Se has been delayed in anticipation of an order declaring a closed season in the seal fisheries.

The Sleep Fast.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—At 7 o'clock this morning there were still five participants in the will-power versus sleep contest. They have remained awake one hundred and eight hours and have sixty hours more to go.

The Empress of India's Passengers.

NEW YORK, May 4.—A special train bearing the Empress of India's passengers, arrived at the Grand Central depot this morning.

AN AWFUL ACCIDENT.

A Young Westministerite Nearly Burnt to Death.

Special to the TIMES.]

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., May 6.—This morning, at 10:15, a clerk named White, working in Campbell & Anderson's hardware store, was opening a barrel of varnish in the basement assisted by a drayman, when the bung suddenly blew out. The varnish spurted over a lighted lamp, and White's clothes being saturated took fire. He rushed up into the street blazing. He rolled round the roadway until his clothes were finally torn off by the crowd. He was terribly burned around his knees, hips, hands, arms and face.

He will probably die. The drayman and another clerk were badly burned. The fire department got on the roof and poured on floods, completely ruining the stock with water. The fire was put out after a hard fight. The damage is estimated at $20,000. Insured as follows: Royal, $5000; Etna, $5000; N. B. and Mercantile, $5000; Phœnix, the remainder. The stock of Lundy, boots and shoes, next door, was slightly damaged. The action of the fire department is severely criticised.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

SUPREME COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Drake.)

McEachran vs. Ashley, Johnson and others—This is an action brought under the Mechanics Lien Act to recover wages for logging work done for the defendant Ashley. The logs were supplied to the other defendants and Mr. Helmcken, on behalf of defendant W. P. Sayward, demurred to the plaintiff's claim on the ground that the Supreme Court had no jurisdiction to try the matter, giving as his ground that section 26 of the Act requires that the suit may be established in a summary way before a stipendiary magistrate or two justices of the peace, having jurisdiction where the work was done.

The learned judge held that as the Supreme Court never had jurisdiction the cause of action having been created by the statute there could be no ouster of the jurisdiction of such court, and as a specific remedy is created by the statute, such remedy must be pursued. The demurrer was allowed with costs. Mr. E. E. Wootton for plaintiff, Mr. H. D. Helmcken for defendant Sayward.

The owners of the steamship City of Puebla vs. the owners of the steamship Eton.—This case, which arose out of the collision between the two above-named steamers, under circumstances already published, occupied the attention of the Supreme Court to-day. His Lordship, the Chief Justice, occupied the bench, assisted by two arbitrators, Captain Turner and Lieutenant Musgrave, R.N. The case will last for some days.

A DISSATISFIED COLONY.

INHABITANTS OF CAPE TOWN IRRITATED.

Rudini Joins an Association for the Promotion of Peace—More Ironclads for Russia—The Newfoundland Trouble—A Bismarckian Party.

LONDON, May 6.—Advices from Cape Town state that the greatest excitement reigns there in regard to the Boer expedition, and the situation is far more critical than has been supposed in England. As President Kruger, of the Transvaal, has allowed his inability to prevent the Boers from going to Trek, as they call it, into the territories of the South Africa Company, the Cape people look to the British Government to fulfil its warning that any such expedition will be regarded as an act of hostility. The Boers, it is said, claim that they mean to settle within the Portuguese limits; but this is believed out of the question, as the British is much more desirable territory. The Cape Town settlers are deeply irritated against England for tolerating the aggressions of the Portuguese and Boers, and many at Cape Town go so far as to urge independent action on the part of the colony.

INTERNATIONAL PARLIAMENT.

A Rome dispatch says that Premier Rudini has joined the Parliamentary Association for the promotion of international arbitration and peace, and that invitations are to be issued to various countries including America for an international parliamentary conference on the subject to be held in Rome in November. Signor Bonghi, president of the association, said that Signor Rudini has never had any but peaceable intentions towards the United States and that he entertains the deepest sympathy for America. Signor Maffi has been appointed secretary of the association.

RUSSIAN IRONCLADS TO BE LAUNCHED.

Russia is going busily forward with naval preparations and several new ironclads, built in the Imperial dockyards at Nicolaieff and Sebastapol, are to be launched on the occasion of the visit of the Czar and Czarina to the Crimea.

NEWFOUNDLAND WILL PETITION.

The Newfoundland delegates purpose to petition the House of Commons as soon as the bill for the coercion of the colony reaches that house. They have prepared a synopsis of the colony's case for wide distribution throughout the country. They claim that the troubles in connection with the bait question are much exaggerated, and that the steps taken by the colony to prevent disturbances are quite adequate.

BISMARCK WILL HAVE A FOLLOWING.

A Berlin despatch says that Herr Arendte, the free Conservative member of the Richstag, has stated that Bismark will have a powerful party behind him in that body, and that he can hardly fail to obtain profound attention for his utterances. Herr Arendte severely condemned the policy of Chancellor Caprivi, and said that the country was to be congratulated on the return of Prince Bismarck.

INDIGNANT AT VERNEY.

Officers of the navy are highly indignant at Capt. Verney, for having used an honorably discharged seaman who had served under him as an innocent tool in his infamous business of decoying young women. The seaman alluded to, Robert Russel, was induced to allow his house to be used as a place for receiving letters addressed to Verney in his false names of Wilson and Bonard. In one of Verney,s letters to his agent in crime, Madame Rouillier, he says of a certain book, "You know it is considered such a naughty book that in America it is not allowed to be sold at all. Myself, I cannot see that it is so very naughty." The police claim to have evidence in about forty cases against Verney. His expulsion from Parliament will doubtless follow a conviction.

PUBLIC SYMPATHY CHANGING.

The statement given to the public by Mrs. Jackson regarding the brutal conduct of her husband while she was a prisoner at Blackburn, has turned public sympathy in favor of the lady, whereas it had been strongly in favor of the husband. It is now recognized that a reconciliation between the pair is impossible and the case will not probably be carried any higher. Upon Mrs. Jackson's death her husband will succeed to a considerable income should he survive her.

ROTHSCHILD'S ASSOCIATES.

The associates with the Messrs Rothschild in handling the Russian loan, are Bleichroder, the discountor, Gesellchaft and the St. Petersburg discount and international bankers.

Scourging the Jews.

LONDON, May 5.—The Moscow correspondent of the Standard dwells upon the utter disorganization of business through the sudden expulsion of the Jews. All engaged in the various business agencies, the correspondent says, finds it impossible to collect debts, and hundreds of bills are protested daily. The judge of the Commercial Court has been obliged to telegraph to the minister of finance for instructions as to how to act in the emergency. Many traders in the Jewish quarters are facing bankruptcy owing to the departure of the Jews, who only left their belongings to cover debts amounting to $650,000. At St. Petersburg the synagogue has already been sold for $45,000. A new and unused synagogue in Moscow has been offered for sale, as it is useless in the face of the exodus.

A Moscow letter to the Times records the sacrifices made by Jewish emigrants. In many cases they have sold their belongings for the merest trifle, chairs being bought for two pence, and beds for six pence. Many persons destroyed their goods in preference to selling them at a sacrifice. Many Russians declined to pay debts owing to the Jews. Heartrending scenes are witnessed daily in the synagogue, people weeping and praying to Jehovah to help them. Thousands of workmen are idle who have hitherto been employed by the Jews. Foreign importers are keeping back goods on the frontier. It is reported that one Swiss silk firm has lost $40,000 in a single week.

A Blood-thirsty Italian.

LONDON, May 5.—A terrible affair is reported this morning from Southport, the watering place in the Irish sea, near Preston. Mr. Sawyer a landlord, was attacked by an Italian named Cummino. The assault was sudden, and, apparently, unprovoked. The Italian used a knife, and plied it with terrible effect. Mr. Sawyer, who was unarmed, defended himself as best he could with a chair, which was soon smashed in the struggle, and he was succumbing under the strokes of his assailant, when his wife and daughter rushed upon the scene and tried to rescue him. Cummino drew a revolver and fired upon the three, following up the shots with his knife, and then fled. The wife and daughter are dying, and Mr. Sawyer cannot recover from the injuries he has received. It is reported later that the assassin has been captured.

Verney Sentenced.

LONDON, May 6.—Capt. Verney, for trying to procure Miss Brackett for immoral purposes was to-day sentenced to one year imprisonment without hard labor.

NEWS AROUND NANAIMO.

The Union Miners Will Build a Steamer—Other Items.

NANAIMO, May 6.—At a meeting of the M. & M. L. P. A. recently, a committee was selected to ascertain what would be the probable cost of building a steamer in this city, to run in conjunction with Captain Glaholin's steamer Emma, to and fro between Nanaimo and Victoria. It is said the new steamer will have to be capable of running 20 miles per hour in order to compete with the E. & N. Railroad and the capital for the scheme is to be subscribed in Nanaimo only. There is no reason why such a vessel could not be built here. The members of the Association appear to go heart and soul into the scheme, so there is every possibility of it being carried out successfully.

THE WELLINGTON MONTH PAY.

An agitation is on foot among the men at present employed at the Wellington mine, to endeavor to get the company to pay twice per month, the same as the system recently adopted by the New V. C. Co. It is understood a committee has been appointed to wait on the manager, but nothing further is known of the matter. It is not unlikely in the event of a refusal by the Dunsmuirs to grant this concession to the men, that another strike may be inaugurated.

NEARLY A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Richardson and Mrs. Dobson, while coming to Nanaimo last evening from South Wellington in a buggy, came near meeting with a serious accident. The horse suddenly stopped in front of a clump of bushes and no inducement of the whip could entice it to move, until it suddenly bolted into the woods, and in its mad career it precipitated both ladies from the vehicle. Although only bruised they were seriously alarmed, but succeeded in walking to town in preference to incurring the danger of a second ride.

WILL RECEIVE A GRAND RECEPTION.

The Good Templars' Hall has been handsomely decorated for the grand reception which is to be tendered to the Rev. Mr. Lovey on Thursday next, and which promises to be an interesting event. The reception will be undertaken by a few of the leading church people of the city, and it is understood no collection will be taken or any charge made, as the reception is meant for the purpose of introducing the reverend gentleman to his congregation so that they may become acquainted with each other and a good understanding mutually arrived at. The reverend gentleman comes well recommended, and there is little doubt but that he will become popular.

AN EXCURSION TRAIN FROM WELLINGTON.

It is stated at Wellington that the Dunsmuir's intend running an excursion train from the camps, on the Queen's birthday to Victoria and return. The train will not call at Nanaimo on the way down but is to speed through the Nanaimo depot. It is generally reported that the C Battery have been engaged for the occasion, for the purpose of changing the monotony of the trip down and enlivening things generally.

LITTLE HAPPENINGS.

A movement is on foot among the dry goods clerks and others to agitate the weekly half holiday.

The youths of the city are being pressed to extremes in order to gratify their cravings for cigarettes.

The fire laddies have made arrangements to hold their annual picnic on July 4th.

RUDINI DOWN AGAIN.

His Confidential Letter Was Not So Marked.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The following dispatch was sent by Secretary Blaine to-day to Porter, American minister at Rome:

A series of statements addressed to the Marquis Imperiali by the Marquis di Rudini was telegraphed from Rome yesterday and was published by the Associated Press of the United States to-day. The only part of Rudini's communication which this government desires to notice is the one here quoted, namely:

"I have now before me a letter addressed to you by Secretary Blaine of April 14. Its perusal produces a most painful impression upon me. I will not stop to lay stress upon the lack of conformity with diplomatic usages displayed in making use, as Blaine did not hesitate to do, of a portion of a telegram of mine communicated to him in strict confidence, in order to get rid of a question clearly defined in our official documents, which alone possess diplomatic value."

The telegram of March 14, concerning whose public use the Marquis di Rudini complains, is the following, which is quoted in full in my note of April 14 to the Marquis Imperiali at Washington City:

"ROME, March 24.—The Italian Minister, Washington: Our requests to the Federal Government are very simple. Some Italian subjects, acquitted by an American magistrate, have been murdered in prison while under the immediate protection of the authorities. Our right, therefore, to demand and obtain punishment of the murderers and indemnity for the victims is unquestionable. I wish to add that public opinion is justly impatient, and if concrete provisions were not at once taken I should find myself in the painful necessity of showing openly our dissatisfaction by recalling the minister of His Majesty from a country where he is unable to obtain justice. RUDINI."

The intimation of the Marquis of Rudini that the telegram in question was delivered in strict confidence is a total error. As the telegram expressed a demand of the Italian Government, it was impossible that Rudini could transmit it in strict confidence. As I have already stated, it was a communication to me in person by Baron Fava, written in English in his own handwriting, and without a suggestion of privacy, and the telegram itself has not a single mark upon it denoting a confidential character. I have caused a number of copies of the telegram to be forwarded to you to-day in fac simile. The usual mark for Italy's printing was used by me under four lines, and they appear in the copies. You will use the fac simile in such a manner as will most effectually prove the error into which Marquis di Rudini has fallen.

BLAINE.

Chilian Insurgent at 'Frisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—Yesterday a reporter discovered the presence in this city of R. L. Trumbull, of Santiago, Chili, and ascertained that that gentleman was in the United States as a representative of the Congressional party of Chili, otherwise known as the insurgents. When questioned as to the knowledge he possessed of the shipment of arms on the Robert and Minnie, Mr. Trumbull said: "When I was in New York certain individuals came to me and enquired as to the possibility of their obtaining payment for a lot of arms and ammunition that had been ordered from Chili. I am satisfied that the persons who ordered the articles would pay, and, further told them also, that any shipment made would be upon their own responsibility. I understood from shippers that arms were to be sent by rail to San Francisco and thence shipped coastwise and put on board of a vessel for conveyance to their destination. Further than the facts stated I know nothing about the arms or the schooner. Regarding the arrival of the Chilian Itata at San Diego, I know that the steamer came there for a load of provisions to recruit the war ships now in possession of the congressional party. No one has authority to stop the shipment of either arms or provisions in San Diego or any portion of United States. Up to the present time no neutrality proclamation has been issued by the President of the United States forbidding the shipment of supplies, and any one has a perfect right to embark in the business." J. W. Grace & Co. state that while they are agents for the South American Steam Navigation company, they have no connection or cognizance of the presence of the steamer at San Diego. The Itata and all the fleet of the company, except the Imperiale, have been seized by the Chilian insurgents, according to the statement of United States consular Secretary McCreery.

HERE AND THERE.

While Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt's Alva was steaming through a storm on her way to Villefranche, an enormous wave deposited a 70-pound turtle on the deck. It was good to eat, and, therefore, was eaten.

Darwin used to go into the Zoological Gardens in London, and, standing by the glass case containing the cobra di capello, put his forehead against the glass while the cobra struck out at him. The glass was between them; Darwin's mind was perfectly convinced as to the inability of the snake to harm him; yet he would always dodge. Time after time he tried it, his will and reason keeping him there, his instinct making him dodge. The instinct was stronger than both will and reason.

The business of collecting press clippings and distributing them among those whom they personally mention, has grown to enormous dimensions. When the late Senator Hearst died, his son, William R. Hearst, requested a well-known collector of clippings to collect twelve sets of obituary and editorial notices. The net result was the accumulation of 11,000 articles, or over 900 complete sets of obituary notices, and this great task was completed in 10 days at an expense to Mr. Hearst of about $600. It is said that this was the largest single order for press clippings ever executed. A business of this kind has been recently started in Canada.

Perhaps the wittiest of Sheridan's retorts was delivered, as it seemed, offhand in the House of Commons. He said that Dundas resorted to his memory for his jokes and to his imagination for his facts. Unfortunately for the extempore reputation of this jest, it is found set down in Sheridan's notebook years before. He jots down the happy thought, "He employs his fancy for his narrative and keeps his recollection for his wit." Later on, he expands this into, "When he makes his jokes you applaud the accuracy of his memory, and 'tis only when he states his facts that you admire the flights of his imagination." After this he uses the idea to the confusion of Michael Keily, a composer of music who had been a wine-merchant. "You will now import your music and compose your wine." Finally, he lets it off with a bang in the House of Commons.

Not long before his death, Barnum summoned his lawyer to the side of the couch where he was lying. "I am very much worried," he said, "about a certain matter, and I want to consult you. My neighbor keeps peacocks. Now, suppose some of them should fly over into my yard—which they are doing all the time—and lay some eggs here. Would those eggs belong to me, or could my neighbor compel me to give them up?" The lawyer, having duly scratched his head, answered: "Well, Mr. Barnum, I must take time to look into this matter. But the best thing for you to do would be to keep the eggs and let your neighbor sue for their possession. In that way your rights would be determined, and we should have a very valuable test case." "Well," said Barnum, "while you are looking into the matter, you will find out how it would be if the eggs were laid by peahens?" The lawyer swore softly to himself, but never made any investigation.

He Woke the Deacon up.

In the course of his sermon Rev. McLeod told the congregation that if any among them were asleep they had better wake up or they would miss hearing a good story. Much to the amusement of the congregation, one old man left his seat, advanced a few steps up the aisle, grasped another old man by the shoulder, and after giving him a sound shake, whispered in his ear sufficiently loud enough to be heard in all parts of the church: "Brother B! Wake up! The elder is going to tell a story. If you would keep better hours Saturday nights you would be able to keep awake during church services." The unlooked for scene caused an audible titter in nearly every pew in the church which in many cases had not entirely ceased when the benediction was pronounced.—Sun Prairie (Wis.) Countryman.

NAIMO, May 5—A nectie social was in the Methodist church evening by the members of Sunday school. The affair was a very interesting one and sted of singing, reciting, reading nstrumental music. Ask Your Friends

e have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at they think of it, and the replies l be positive in its favor. One has n cured of indigestion and dyspep- another finds it indispensable for sick headache, others report remarkable cures of scrofula, salt rheum, etc. Truly, the best advertising which Hood's Sarsaparilla receives is the hearty endorsment of its army of friends.

What Good Behavior Will Accomplish.

"I can truly say that my work and operations extend over the whole Dominion at the present time. However, just a month ago, a grocer engaged me to go to a remote village in Ontario to work for people who heard of my reputation. The grocer assured me that from what he heard, the people would receive me kindly and joyously. He said two would-be workers at my trade had been tried, but the people were very indignant about the miserable work they turned out. I went away with the grocer, and was introduced by him, and just think of it! I have now the whole held to myself. The people call me 'honest working and trusty Diamond Dyes,' and will employ no other."

A Few Astonishers.

How many people are there who pronounce any proportion of their words correctly, not merely by reason of clipping and mouthing, but by ignorance of good usage? We find them everywhere, and they lay the accent on the first instead of the second syllable of acclimate, for example; they pronounce the second syllable of acoustics, coo, instead of cow; they do not put the accent on the last syllable of debt, as they should do; they leave the u sound out of buoy; they pronounce duke with the sound of oo instead of with the simple long u, and emphasize the first instead of the second syllable of enervate, and sound the t in often. They are astonished to know that precedence has the accent on the second syllable, and placard on the last; that quay is called key; that sough is suf; that the z instead of the s sound is to be given in sacrifice, and the reverse in rise; that subtile and subtle are two different words; that the last syllable of tortoise is pronounced "tis" instead of "tus," that it should be used and not ust, and that it is not the "zoo," but the zoological gardens. It is quite time, we think, when we hear one of these talkers, for some of the fancy work and fancy studies of the day to be dropped and a little hard work on the dictionary put in their place.—Harper's Bazaar.

THE "VICE" OF ANNEXATION.

It is not necessary for the TIMES to disclaim annexation proclivities. Its politics in this respect is too well known. The TIMES, however, will never cease to point out the inconsistency of the Tory attitude in relation to reciprocity with the States. Annexation substituted for "vice", in POPE'S lines on that subject embodies in a nutshell the Tory argument against reciprocity. But do the Tories live up to their argument? No, indeed! None quicker than they to barter with the Yankees if there is any money in it. Now, all we ask is, that the Tories practice what they preach, and particularly when, according to their own doctrine, trading with the Americans, they are undermining their loyalty to the "old flag." Not being annexationists ourselves, and morally certain that no business relations with the States, however broad, would corrupt our fidelity to the old flag, it would be sad, very sad, did it come to pass that a few years hence we should be compelled to oppose Toryism as inimical to Canadian autonomy and British prestige on this continent.

Before dismissing this subject for what the Telegram treats seriously, is deserving of serious treatment, we should say in response to the Telegram's belief that American refiners would combine and freeze out Canadian refiners were reciprocity to come in operation, that the chances are very much against it. The Telegram seems to treat the situation as if sectional antipathy would influence the attitude of American refiners; that they would endeavor to freeze out the Canadian refiners simply because they are Canadians. If this be the inner feeling of the Telegram the best thing it can do is to disabuse itself of the idea as soon as possible. If the American refiners are the "keen, unscrupulous" men that the Telegram alleges them to be, the last thing they will attempt is the "bearing" of the sugar market. Rather, shall we suppose, would they first endeavor to persuade the Canadians to join the pool, and that the Canadians would decline is highly improbable. And again, since American fiscal policy affects the Canadian—note that the reduction in the price of American sugar has raised a nice problem for Mr. FOSTER to solve—is it not manifest that the freest possible trade relations with the States is logical? What would be the effect on Canada should the United States adopt free trade? Canada would be forced into it too. Sentimentally we can approve of National Policy. As a rational proposition, however, we cannot. Looking at the matter from a strictly utilitarian point of view, reciprocity is not only business, but it seems to be destiny. A sentimentalism that drains the pocket cannot last. Indeed a sentimentalism which persists in such circumstances is not sentimentalism but prejudice.

"Linderbank," writing editorially in the Montreal Witness, is not an admirer of the Farmers' Alliance, and truth to say, if his stories of that organization be true, it is not to be wondered at. According to "Linderbank" the Farmers' Alliance is both ignorant and venal. Of course, it would be absurd to affirm that in this organization neither ignorance nor venality exist. These are peculiar to any organization. In every body of men there is always some who have their price. But, for all that the Alliance stand charged of a grievous mental and moral failing, it is idle to hold that it does not represent the mass of intelligence in the United States; idle to dispute that its demand for reform is not based on just grounds. If the farmers do not represent the intelligence and the integrity of the United States, where is intelligence and integrity to be found in that country; while in the matter of reform, if their demand is not justified in the circumstances of the case, was there ever a cry for reform that was not baseless? The fact that the farmers in the United States have risen in rebellion against the politicians, irrespective of party, is significant on the face of it. Without taking the trouble to investigate, it is patent that there is something wrong. When the conservative element in any country declaim as a body against the policy of its political leaders, it is enough. It goes without saying that it cannot be wholly wrong, has in fact a specific grievance. Nevertheless, taking the newspapers for it, the farmers are beside themselves; are all wrong, ignorant, venal, socialistic. Socialistic! That is a good word, and particularly in the mouths of combinesters. If the farmers are turned socialists, what was the cause of it? What has been the trend of legislation of recent years, and who has engineered that trend? Has it not been socialistic, and have not capitalized interests been at the helm? Has not capital pooled its issues until to-day within itself it exemplifies the highest form of socialism? What are railway pools and other forms of combination? If the farmers have fallen into the heresy of socialism it cannot be said of them that they initiated the movement! The railway magnates sneer at the Alliance for combining to protect themselves, and yet they initiated the principle of co-operation and have used it to the utmost that the "traffic would bear." There have been wheat combines, dressed beef combines, sugar combines, the primary object of which was to force down prices to the producer and force up prices to the consumer. Money has made money by "cinching" the producer on the one hand and the consumer on the other. Still, the farmers have no grievance! It is just possible, nay, it is more than likely, that the unsophisticatedness, the greenness, of the farmers will for the present paralyse their efforts toward reform, but they have set the ball rolling; the movement toward reform has begun. If capital and labor may organize, so can farmers? If capital and labor find socialism good, why should not the farmers? The farmers' movement is destined to work a revolution in affairs. Sockless Simpsons are the logical sequel to politicians controlled by consolidated capital.

THE RING.

JACKSON AND CORBETT BUSY.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—The time is fast approaching when Jim Corbett and Peter Jackson must face each other in the California club ring. The men are now well advanced in their training, and each has admitted that he feels in the best possible condition. Corbett, who indulges in tramping, rowing, ball-punching, wrestling and sparring at Sausalito, is said to weigh 186 pounds, and he expects to be at the same weight when he faces his opponent. Jackson, whose work in the main consists of extended walks and long sieges at punching the bag, now weighs 196 pounds. He thinks it probable that he will weigh a pound or two more on the eventful evening.

THE GUN.

THE VICTORIA GUN CLUB.

The Victoria Gun Club held their regular monthly meeting last night in their well appointed and nicely furnished rooms in the Russell Block. Five new members were elected, and in consideration of the strength of the club in members and funds, it was decided to reduce the monthly dues from one dollar to fifty cents, the reduction to commence on the first of June. Mr. W. H. Routledge, the enterprising real estate broker, has kindly presented a very handsome silver cup to be competed for by members of the of the club, at a series of matches to be arranged. Victoria now boasts of two well organized and equipped gun clubs, and during the coming season some keen competitions are promised to the lovers of wing shooting.

He Will Keep the Peace.

James Williams summoned Peter Smith in the Esquimalt police court to-day, before Justices of the Peace Wright and Bullen. The charge was for using threatening language. Smith was bound over in bonds of $200 to keep the peace for twelve months.

The naval authorities intend to prevent a recurrence of the accidents and intend to erect a lamp at the canteen gate, which will be a great convenience to the men at night.

Queer Glimpses of Australia.

Gilbert Parker is writing in Harper's Weekly a lot about Australia, and to an Australian it is in some parts queer news, while in others it is amusing. Mr. Parker seems pessemisstic generally; he never sees anything good, but he sees a dark side; in other words his sunshine is always accompanied by a cloudy back-ground, and here he shines pre-eminently in this respect.

Expensive Amusement.

The man Cartwright, who was detected by provincial officer McNiel last evening with some blue grouse in his possession, was this afternoon arrigned in the provincial police court, before Justices of the Peace Robert Ward and H. E. Croasdaile, by whom he was fined $25 and $3.50 costs. Cartwright is from Sooke, and forms only one of a crowd who slaughter game out there daily.

They May Alternate.

It is said that an arrangement has been made, says the Port Townsend Leader, whereby the Union Pacific's line and the Puget Sound and Alaska Steamship Company, the Northern Pacific line, will quit disputing for through Port Townsend and Victoria business. The rumor is to the effect that they will divide the business on the Victoria run, the City of Kingston to leave Tacoma one morning and the Victorian the next. They will alternate likewise in returning from Victoria. The arrangement will give one steamer each way daily, while now there are two, the Victoria boat of each company making the round trip now in twenty-four hours. [This is hardly likely as the Kingston has all she can do now to carry the Northern Pacific's through freight.]

To Greet the President.

The steamer City of Kingston was crowded last evening with Victorians bound for Seattle to be present at the Presidential reception to be held to-day. They went as far as Tacoma on the Kingston, and left there this morning in company with the steamer City of Seattle, which conveys the party between the two cities. The Victoria contingent will return to-morrow evening.

One of the First.

Mr. W. A Harrison, who returned from Port Angeles last evening, brought over a brick, which is one of the first made in that thriving city. It was made by Mr. Geraghty, who has started a brickyard at Angeles, and speaks well for that gentleman as well as for the material to be found around Angeles for the manufacture of bricks. It is on view at Jones & Mason's real estate office, Government street.

The Statement is Untrue.

This morning's mail brought down a Free Press from Nanaimo in which a letter appears by "Nanaimo Merchant" to the effect that the E. & N. R.R. are going to run a free train to Victoria, to enable the employees of the company to purchase their supplies here every week. On enquiry at the head-quarters of the company here to-day, it was learned that there was not the slightest truth in the statement.

Tourist Spoons and Opera Glasses.

Mr. A. A. Clayton, of the Diamond alace, Government street, has now completed and ready for inspection, a large stock of tourist spoons, suitable for souvenirs of Victoria. In the bowls of the spoons are etched scenes of the Gorge, Dunsmuir Castle, Mount Baker, and other pictures of Victoria scenery. He has also just received a consignment of beautiful opera glasses, in pearl and Russia leather, which are pronounced the finest ever imported to this city.

To Open Their New Barracks.

This evening the Salvation Army will bid farewell to their old quarters on Fort street to occupy their new barracks, the old Methodist church, corner of Pandora and Broad streets. The opening of the new barracks will be celebrated by special meetings this and to-morrow evenings, lead by Staff-Capt. Grayson. Officers from the near by cities will be present to speak and take part. Several of the local ministers will also speak.

They Start Excavating.

Yesterday afternoon Messrs. McGregor & Geeves signed the contract for the Cormorant street portion of the market building which has been described in these columns. They intend to push the work through as quickly as possible, and with that end in view put a gang of men and several teams at work on the excavations this morning. There is little or no rock to be taken out so that it will not be long before they start laying the foundation.

Townsite of Abbotsford.

Mr. Joshua Davies has had nicely lithographed maps of Abbotsford prepared. The property will be sold at Vancouver on the 16th inst. Abbotsford is situate about two miles north of the iternational boundary line, at the junction of the New Westminster, Yale Trunk road; the Mission branch of the Canadian Pacific railway, connected with the Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern railway. It is at this point that the Chilliwhack railway, now being located, will make its connection with the Canadian Pacific railway.

Tug Owners Combine.

A combine has been formed by Puget Sound tug owners, by which the tugs Tyee, Tacoma and Wanderer are to be governed by the rules of the combine. This arrangement was effected by a meeting held in this city Saturday between Cyrus Walker and E. G. Ames, of the Puget Mill Company, Ed Hanson, the Tacoma Mill Company, and John R. Campbell, of Port Blakely, and Capt. Libby. There are still several tugs that are not in the combine, but some of them may yet be taken in. Captain Libby is the manager of the new combine, the headquarters for which will be in Tacoma.

The Case Dismissed.

On Sunday night Mr. R. W. Jones and family in going to church left a Chinaman in charge of the house. On their return the Chinaman had gone and a lot of valuable jewellery was missing. Information was given to the police last evening and shortly afterwards the Chinaman was arrested. Some of the jewellery was found in a pawnshop, but as the pawnbroker could not recognize the Chinaman that pawned the goods the case had to be withdrawn. This is not the first time that a case had to be dropped on account of the pawnbroker not being able to recognize the person that pawned the goods and as his honor remarked it is time that a law was passed making it imperative for pawnbrokers to keep a description of people who pawn goods with them.

The First Barge.

A letter has been received at Port Townsend from Captain McDougall, of the American Steel Barge Company, stating that the first barge of the new type adapted for sea service would leave New York for the Pacific coast on June 1st. The barge is 1500 tons register, and will carry 3500 tons of coal or grain. She is flat-bottomed and draws only 15 feet of water loaded. Her engines, of 800-horse power, with the wheelhouse and accommodations for the officers and crew, are situated in the after end of the barge. There is also a forward wheelhouse for use in fine weather. A light rail runs along the upper deck, and derrick masts and booms are stowed in such a position that they can be raised and used with fore and aft sails when required. The barge will probably be used in the coal trade between Nanaimo and San Francisco.

Last Evening's Concert.

Standing room only was to be had at the hall of the First Presbyterian Church last evening, on the occasion of the last of this season's concerts by the Young People's Society. Their programme was first class and excellently carried through as follows: Selection by the Glee Club; solo, Miss Wolff; recitation, Miss Herd; quartette, violin and violincello accompaniment, Misses Twiss, Messrs. Nash and Scroggs; solo, Mr. J. G. Brown; recitation, Miss Beeton; solo, Mr. Gold; club swinging, Mr. Boyd; humorous quartette, Mrs. R. G. McCandless, Miss Gilmour, Messrs. Gold and Watson. The celebrated humaniphone rendered numerous selections. The selections most deserving of mention were the songs of Messrs. J. G. Brown and Gold, and Miss Beeton's humorous recitation. The humaniphone caused some merriment. On the whole the concert was good, and the young people deserve credit for their excellent entertainment.

Rev. Dr. Campbell, of Collingwood, filled the place of chairman, and Miss Stephens ably discharged the duties of accompanist.

CAPTAIN AND ENGINEER.

TO THE EDITOR,—I have read, with interest, the correspondence in your columns on the respective positions of master and engineer. Mr. Lindley's letter puts the question very well. It is a question of common sense, rather than of regulation. I venture to intervene in the discussion, merely to say, that it is a very old one. In my younger days I was secretary of a committee in London which reported to the board of trade—then under the presidency of Mr. Bright—on the means of improving the condition of merchant seamen. Admirals Ryder and Hall, Postmaster-General Fawcett, Captain Toynbee, Auberon Herbert, the members for Liverpool, Hull and Bristol, were upon the committee. Many of its recommendations were adopted and were embodied with the Merchant Shipping Act. The question of the position of engineer was considered and his important functions were fully recognized. But the conclusion come to, generally, was that there must be on board ship one supreme authority, that of the master, whose powers, however, have to be used at his own risk, and subject to official records, made at the time, to show the why and the wherefore of his proceedings. Nobody in a ship, the engineer, the torpedo expert, the commander of marines, or the doctor, can have, or ought to have, aboardship, a position in any way derogating from that of the captain. He is the superior of all of them, without any question. That is the general, permanent rule upon the subject. But, as in many affairs of life, the rule practically, is subject to exceptions. Against gross abuses of power by the temporary despot of the deck, the law makes provision. By requiring certified qualifications in the case of those specialists it goes so far as the circumstances permit, to indicate to the captain, the practical limitations of his intervening power. If he overrules the doctor, he may be charged with manslaughter; if he interferes, unduly, with the functions of the engineer, he may cause the loss of the vessel, and wreck his own career. The self-interest of shipowners, also, is a great check on the interference of captains in matters, nominally under their supervision, but of which they know nothing. Shipowners will not employ men who, as captains, risk their employers' property by meddling and muddling. No experienced steamship owner, for instance, would entrust your correspondent "Old Salt," with the command of a steam launch. The captain of a steamer, especially, must possess managing tact and common sense. Mere seamanship, without these qualities, will not serve to recommend him. I have managed steam vessels, and traveled in steam vessels, and have observed how careful the best captains are, not to interfere with the engineers' department, except as regards general regulations and discipline. The chief engineer may not always be better educated than the captain, but the examinations he has to pass are more difficult than the examinations for the position of captain. They are the most comprehensive and difficult connected directly with seafaring life—except, perhaps, in the case of artillerists. It is difficult to apportion degrees of merit, among the crew of a steamboat, for a fast passage. The captain gets the credit, and, as a general rule, deserves credit. That is one of the privileges of his position. The propitious gods of wind and sea—and the cook—often have much to do with it. But if the apportionment is to be attempted, I do not know whom we can place above the vigilant and skillful caretakers and servitors of the giant forces in the engine-room—those forces which, with the nice and regular action of a lady's watch, propel the ponderous structure of a modern ocean steamer ceaselessly through opposing seas, and against strong winds. The complicated mechanism which the engineers have to feed, tend, caress and control, is as capricious as it is powerful. The eye, and the hand, must be everywhere without intermission, from anchor-up to anchor-down, whether an ocean or a strait, has to be crossed. It is in this that the importance of the engineer's function is seen. A slight want of provision or care on his part, may mean a breakage, or dislocation with consequent delay, or it may mean a suicidal smash. There is no analogue or only a very imperfect analogue to this, in the handling of sails and yards—deeply interesting as that function is to the sailor, and to many landsmen, and among the latter, to your obedient servant,

GENTLE GYMNASTICS.

The Means by Which Women May Become Muscular.

Simple Instructions for the Guidance of Members of the Fair Sex Who Are Desirous of Developing Their Muscles.

Light gymnastics embrace the use of dumb-bells, bar-bells, Indian clubs, wands, hoops and exercises without anything whatever in the hands. Marching, deep breathing movements, poising, stretching and equilibrium exercises, all of which have in a great measure grown out of the Delsarte system, also come, says the Ladies' Home Journal, under the general term, light gymnastics.

The beneficial results of all these are many and varied. Hardly anyone is too weak for gymnastics. Gentle massage will start the muscles and send the blood into healthy circulation. Then the patient should help herself. One of the advantages of light gymnastics is that the sick and convalescent can make what appear to be trifling efforts and by them, in time, be restored to active health. If too feeble to be practically able to make but little exertion, try what are known as deep breathing movements. Lie flat upon the back, take as long and deep breaths as possible, and while the mouth is closed, slowly throw the arms up in front and then at the sides. Rest for ten minutes. Try again the same inhalation and exhalation of air, the latter being pure and fresh. After awhile attempt the same, sitting up. These exercises can safely be taken by the sick one every day several times, and the whole muscular system will be improved, just as if some revivifying tonic had been given, a far better one than any charged with alcohol or some like stimulant.

From this step to the use of light apparatus in the dumb-bells is a short one. But the mistake is too often made in trying to be too muscular, and using bells of too great a weight. Attempt nothing above your strength at the start; it is even better at first to go under it than over it. Above all things be methodical and regular in these exercises. Irregularity in anything—habits, expenditures, diet—brings its uncomfortable reward. Exercise must be constant and systematic to be effective.

Stand with the heels together, body erect and head up. Place the bells on the shoulders and push up that in the right hand to a count of eight or twelve; then the left; then both together at the same time.

Place the bells on the chest; push the right-hand bell out in front eight times, the left-hand afterward, then both.

Push the bell in the right hand out from the chest to the right, the left the same, and next both.

Strike the bells quickly over the head and under the right leg; then the left leg, then again behind the back.

With the right-handed bell extended from right side at right angles with the body, strike it as if it were an anvil eight times with the bell in the left hand as a hammer. Do this in the same manner to the left and in front, holding the bell that acts in lieu of anvil on the right and left knees.

These are but simple movements. A teacher in the gymnasium will give you dozens more. But just after the morning bath, in a cool room, before the corset is put on, if tried for five or ten minutes daily will end in sending a glow through the body and bringing a rich tint to the cheeks. Beauty is not always born; it can be made. Not with cosmetics; try light gymnastic exercises and you will prove to your own satisfaction that a light step, a bright eye, a clear, good-colored skin, without the faintest hint of rouge or powder, makes a woman truly beautiful, as well as "healthy, wealthy and wise."

Apropos of this last assertion, that a woman can grow wiser, yes, actually know more, from regular gymnastic exercises is an established truth.

The greatest practical result of both light and heavy gymnastics is the fact that the mind grows in proportion to the muscle. The muscles need a will, and a strong one, to control them. The moving to exact time and to music demanded by these exercises when taken in the classes of the gymnasium has its effect on the brain, and it is as important as the resulting physical gain. Dr. W. G. Anderson, the specialist, states that women who by reason of undeveloped will power cannot compel this servant to aid them in works they must perform are greatly benefited by light gymnastic exercises; and that those women who are sensible enough to adopt the methods that make men the stronger, the healthier sex, who expect to be known as the mothers of healthy children, and, above all, women who wish to aid in the realization of the ideal human being, whether mentally, morally or physically, are able to be all that they would be by gymnastic exercise.

It is a constant source of complaint that American women are not graceful. And the dancing school has been until recent years the refuge for the awkward and unbalanced-muscled young or old woman. But much more valuable is the gymnasium in its education of the feet, and of the poise and carriage of the body.

To this end fancy step movements are given, and grace and ease of self results. Then, too, dexterity is a quality the phlegmatic, slow-by-nature girl and woman needs to get on in this busy, work-a-day world, where she who moves the quickest and thinks the fastest, keeping her mind clear and steady on what she has in hand, puts to rout the moral of that ancient fable of the hare and tortoise, in reaching the goal long before her slower and more deliberate neighbor.

AUSTRALIAN BUFFALOES.

Although I have been over thirty-seven years in Australia, says a writer in the Brisbane New-Zealander, it was not until eighteen months ago that I was aware that there was a breed of wild buffaloes in these colonies, and I venture to say that not one per cent. of the inhabitants of Queensland, or even half that number, are aware of the fact. Curiously enough, I have two simultaneous inquiries about them—one from Prof. Wallace, of Edinburgh, and the other from a gentleman in Michigan, U. S. A. I laid myself out to make full inquiries on the subject, and it has occurred to me that the public will be interested to know the result. Mr. B. H. Purcell, who has seen several of them in the far north, and was present at the death of one, gave me a minute description of them, which tallies exactly with what I learned from other sources. Mr. E. Palmer, M. L. A., informs me that one of the islands on the northern coast is fully stocked with them, and isolated bulls from the herd on the mainland occasionally find their way as far east as one of his gulf stations, and that several have reached Mr. Hann's Lawn Hill station. In Dr. Leichhardt's journal of his expedition from Moreton bay to Port Essington, in 1844-5, he mentions that Mr. Roper and the blackboys, "Charley" and "Brown," ran down and shot one thirty miles from Port Essington, and that they were said to be numerous there, and were called by the blacks "anaborro." Leichhardt states that they "are the offspring of the stock which had either strayed from the settlement at Raffles bay or had been left behind when that establishment was broken up. They were originally introduced from the Malay islands. I was struck with the remarkable thickness of their skin (almost an inch), and with the solidity of their bones, which contained little marrow, but that little was extremely savory." Mr. Palmer states that the bull killed on his run weighed almost a ton, was extremely broad and well developed in the forequarters, but tapering off in the hindquarters.

I next directed my inquiries to the museum, and here I was most fortunate in getting information from the man above all others in Queensland most competent to give it—namely, Mr. Spalding, the taxidermist of the museum, who spent many months in the center of their great haunt near Port Darwin. Mr. Spalding showed me the head and horns of one of these buffaloes that made its way eastward in the direction of Charters Towers, and was shot there some two years ago. The horns are most remarkable, being square at the butt and four inches thick. They rise in a semi-circle but incline backward, so that the animals, when they charge, which they do furiously, have to put their heads between their forelegs. The horns are extremely coarse, corrugated, and of a dirty brown color. Mr. Spalding corroborated the statements of Messrs. Palmer and Purcell as to the buffaloes being very numerous—in many thousands—at Port Essington, Raffles bay and Melville island. A man has been engaged for a number of years shooting them and making a handsome income by selling the hides. On account of the extreme thickness of hide they resist an ordinary cartridge, and heavy leaden bullets have to be used. They are what are familiarly known as "mud" buffalo, having very little hair on their bodies, which are of a dirty reddish-brown color.

It may not be generally known that a number of Timor ponies were introduced at Port Essington with the buffaloes. These have also increased to a large herd, and Mr. Spalding describes them as exceedingly handsome little animals.

Asiatic "Black Death."

The pestilence now ravaging a great part of Asiatic Russia bears that name of "Black Death" so familiar for centuries as describing one of the most fearful of those plagues which, appearing at irregular intervals, have devastated the globe. Presumably, says the New York Times, it was this same form of scourge that, starting also from Asia, spread over that continent and Europe about the middle of the fourteenth century, and is reputed to have had millions of victims. It is doubtless also the same that made another widespread and terrible devastation in 1664 and 1665, and of whose ravages in London Defoe gave so vivid an account. There it was oftenest called simply the plague, but the name "Black Death" is derived, as may be remembered, from the blotches accompanying the disease. It is believed that its visitations were made as often as once or twice in a century in ancient times, and it was around Naples as late as 1815. Its reappearance now in West Siberia is marked by a terrible mortality which recalls the stories of some of its old-time ravages; but this is largely due, no doubt, to the lack of medical aid in that region.

A Woman in the Moon.

It may not be generally known, but there is the head of a girl in the moon, says the Atchison Globe. It is a profile, and can be easily discerned when the moon is full. When the moon is in the Eastern sky she is looking north and the head inclines upward. At the top of the yellow orb you will see her hair and a sort of haughty bang which conceals most of her forehead; a little below you will see her eye; then comes her nose (this is rather indistinct), then will be seen the chin, underneath which a very shapely neck curves back, indicating that she is well fed.

Curious Census Facts.

It is a curious fact, revealed by the figures of the recent census, that, while there are in the United States three cities of more than 1,000,000 inhabitants each, one of between 800,000 and 900,000, three of between 400,000 and 500,000 each, and nine of between 200,000 and 300,000 each, there is not a single one having between 300,000 and 400,000 inhabitants. In 1860 we had but nine cities with a population of over 100,000 each.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS

OH, MY BACK!

STOP IT NOW.

SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when kind Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days, I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

DONALD NOTES.

Newsy Notes From the "Times" Inland Correspondent.

About the last of April G. Dodge, who is in charge of J. M. Carroll's general store at Beaver, who some time ago was fined for selling spirituous liquors without a license, was brought up on the same charge. The case was proven by two witnesses outside of the officers, but was dismissed on the grounds that the witnesses held and were informing on personal animosity, although Dodge admitted of having sold once to both witnesses.

May 1.—Some of the officers and crew of the Empress of India passed through going east on No. 2.

All sorts of weather to-day. Snow, rain, scorching hot and pleasant at different times. A few are complaining of bad colds and sore throats.

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell started for a trip to the coast.

A. P. Cummings, G.C. and S.M., has gone up country on an inspection tour of East Kootenay district. He expects be gone a month.

May 3.—Fine summer weather. Rev. Mr. Wright, on his way to England, stopped off at Donald and he and Rev. Mr. Keems held forth to a large congregation in the Church of England.

The Presbyterian people cannot get a preacher to suit them so far, so are divided, although their present pastor, the Rev. Mr. Peyton, is thought a great deal of.

CAPTAIN AND ENGINEER.

To the Editor—Sir: Please favor me with a small space in your paper to acknowledge Mr. Lindley's reply to my letter of the 2nd, and I will not trouble you again.

Mr. Lindley appears to think that I wish to raise up the members of my profession by lowering his own in the estimation of the public. Now, sir, I do not wish to do anything of the kind, for I have as much respect for a good engineer as I have for a good shipmaster.

I should not have been drawn into this discussion if it had not been for the statement that a schoolboy could learn in a fortnight sufficient navigation to shape a steamer's course.

Mr. Lindley has misconstrued one sentence of my letter very badly. I said: "To be a successful commander requires years of thoughtful study and watchfulness." In his letter he says: "As to the amount of thoughtful study required for the passing of a master." By it Mr. Lindley appears to think I am defending the rights of every man who passes his examinations and who gets a command. I am doing nothing of the sort. I do not pretend to defend the class of man Mr. Lindley portrays; the egotistical fool who struts his bridge in fine weather and with everything fair around him uses the pronoun "I," but who in the hour of calamity, craven-hearted, shirks the responsibility by "we." I do not defend the man who is a high-fellow well met with his subordinates over the bar of a saloon and who thinks by so doing he is ingratiating himself in their favor, ready for a stormy day, nor do I defend the 180 degree man who allows his engineer to navigate for him.

The man I am speaking up for is the man who fully recognizes the responsibilities of his position, who, by years of careful study, has so trained himself that he is self-confident, self-reliant and possessed of self-command. To be a successful commander a man must be that; he must be able to feel as cool and collected in the hour of danger as he does in the hour of ease, when in difficulty he must at once see the best remedy and act accordingly, and by his self-confidence of those under his charge, by his self-reliance let them feel that they can rely on his judgment, and by his self-command insure their obedience; nor will any man on board attempt to insult him or his position.

I might also state the same qualities are as fully necessary to be a successful chief engineer and when two such men get together on board a steamer, their mutual respect for each other will insure the perfect working of the discipline required for the safety of the lives and property committed to their charge. M. J. Knight.

May 6, 1891.

A CAPTAIN'S RECORD.

The Relative Positions and Responsibilities of Captain and Engineer on a Steamship

The correspondence which has appeared in these columns on the relative positions of captain and engineer may be made plainer by the following from the Liverpool Journal of Commerce of a recent date: "It is, however, one thing to make a crack liner do an extraordinary speed. This is a matter depending entirely upon the naval architect and the marine engineer. It is altogether another thing for the same ship to make a good passage. This depends entirely upon the captain, and when we consider the physical conditions of the North Atlantic—gales alternating with fogs, icebergs and derelicts nearly always in the tract, strong currents and cloudy skies being the features of this gloomy, heavy ocean—we cannot but admire the skill, the patience, the care, and the all-round ability with which the Atlantic liners are navigated. It is our pleasing task to put on record the fact that Capt. Hains, who commands the Cunard steamer Etruria, will sail to-morrow on his 501st trip across the Atlantic. Not many years ago the man who had been round the world half a dozen times was regarded with veneration, but such is the rapidity with which we plac the girdle round the world that a "globe trotter" is regarded as a mere excursionist. But to have to be responsible for property which must in the aggregate run into millions, to have had the care of thousands of human lives, and to have, in short, crossed the Atlantic 500 times, and that without losing a life or incurring any serious accident is a record that any captain may well be proud of. We sincerely trust that the days of Capt. Hains may be long in the land, but we may venture to remark that when the fate which is to come to us all comes to him, the epitaph most suitable and most expressive would be, "He crossed the Atlantic over 500 times without losing a single life or incurring five pounds worth of damage." Capt. Hains, whose father and grandfather were sailors before him, was born at Plymouth. His sea career commenced in 1838, when in Jersey he joined the ship City of Adelaide, belonging to London. He passed the whole of his apprenticeship upon that vessel, and subsequently passed through the various grades of officers until within seven years of first joining her he became her commander. From her he received promotion to larger ships in the capacity of master, until 1857 he first joined the Cunard service as officer. In the same year he was promoted to the chief officership of the Emu, a steamer of the company detailed for Australian service, and from this vessel he passed to other vessels of the fleet, until in the year 1864 he was appointed to his command in the service. For six years he was in charge of vessels of the Havre and Mediterranean fleets, until in 1870 he was appointed to the Atlantic fleets. Thus for over 20 years Captain Hains has regularly traversed the Atlantic. How many passengers in that period have been committed to his care it is not very easy to estimate, but it is certain that few commanders have earned so widespread popularity or so well-deserved esteem.

Mothers!

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

COAL

(FORMERLY THE VANCOUVER COAL CO.),

ARE THE LARGEST COAL PRODUCERS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE NANAIMO COAL (Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes).

THE SOUTH FIELD COAL (Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL

(House and Steam Coal) are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power, unequalled by any other Bituminous Gas Coal in the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL, which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay, where ships of the largest tonnage are loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.

BEFORE THE COUNCIL;

—OR—

Social Life in Victoria.

THE ABOVE WORK IS THE OUTCOME of the recent Moral Reform Movement which took place in the Capital City of British Columbia, and which played such an prominent part in the late Municipal Elections held there. The author discusses the various phases of the question, and has endeavored to deal with the subject in a manner that will be interesting and some practical benefit to every reader into whose hands his book may fall. The position taken by the Ministers of the Christian Churches in regard to the Municipal Election above referred to is also fully dealt with, and although the criticisms may seem severe to some, the author hopes the conclusions drawn and the desire he has shown to do a service, no matter how slight it may be, to the weak and fallen, will meet with the approval of all lovers of justice and humanity.

"Clipper."

The elete of Hutcheson were out en masse last Monday night, says a Hutchesonian Kansas paper, to witness the entertainment given by the Heywood Concert Co. No little had been said in reference to the character of the company, its celebrities in music and impersonation, etc. Everyone expected to see something a little beyond anything ever given in the opera house, of its character. That everyone was more than pleased goes without saying. It was one of the best performances ever given in this part of the State. Alba Heywood, with his wonderful impersonations, kept the audience in a continuous roar of laughter. As an impersonator and a "fun factory" he cannot be excelled. His version of Edgar Allen Poe's "Raven" completely carried away the audience. Miss Olga Widgren has fine musical talent, and is a finished vocalist. Her voice is exquisite, and she has it under perfect control. The duet "Love is Blind," by Miss Widgren and Signor Jovine, was finely rendered. Dewey Heywood's flute solos were loudly encored. Annie Miller is as much at home with the violin as the most finished expert. Everyone present voted it the finest entertainment ever given in the city. A mere mention of their return would fill the house.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.
